In the depths of the Great Recession, a cancer nurse, a car dealership worker, and an insurance fraud specialist helped uncover the largest consumer crime in American history—millions of families were kicked out of their homes based on false evidence by mortgage companies that had no legal right to foreclose.

David Dayen will speak about his investigative journalism leading to this groundbreaking book and why most of the perpetrators of mortgage fraud -- including those at the very top of the Wall St. pyramid -- have not been held responsible! Copies of the book will be available for purchase.

David Dayen is a contributing writer to Salon, a weekly columnist for the Fiscal Times, and he writes for publications including the New Republic, The American Prospect, The Guardian, Vice, The Intercept, and Huffington Post. This is his first book.
